FOURTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Message from the Pastor

Peace to all of you!

This Sunday we celebrate the Fourth Sunday of Ordinary Time. The First Reading, from the Book of the prophet Zephaniah, offers us practical advice on how to find consolation and peace in the Lord. While the people of Israel are suffering because of their stubbornness and their idolatry, the prophet encourages them to be humble and to seek the Lord. If they do this, they will find peace and strength in any situation. Humility is a virtue which is essential, and it is the cornerstone of the spiritual life. To be humble means to be aware that we need God in our daily lives. If we realize that we are weak and we take refuge in the Lord, then we find strength and peace in Him. The Second Reading, from the First Letter of St. Paul to the Corinthians, presents us a passage in which he emphasizes that those who have been called to take part in the community are not super intelligent and strong people, but as weak as anybody else. Our society considers that it is important to be fitted, to be strong and capable. However, all of us have weaknesses and strengths. It is essential to recognize and to accept our own weaknesses. This is the basis of humility. If we are aware that we are weak, then we recognize that we need God, then we can rely in Him and find peace. If we come to terms with our weaknesses, then we can accept the mistakes and shortcomings of other people as well. God has called us even though we are weak to manifest His power and glory. Many times, we try to appear strong, and we hide our weaknesses; however, we can appear weak as we are, knowing that God will help us and strengthen us. The Gospel, from St. Matthew, gives us the wonderful teaching of the Beatitudes. There are eight ways that brings us to fulfillment and happiness. God desires and wishes that we may have a life fulfilled. Jesus Christ has come to offer us this life to the fullest. It is not us who have to achieve it and gain this happiness through our attitudes, but it is a gift that Jesus offers to us. The eight beatitudes is a summary or an icon of the person who is open to God's grace and allows us to be transformed by Christ. They are an image of who Christ is and He wants to share the same attitudes with us. If we open ourselves to Him, slowly we will be people that mirror the Beatitudes. Christ wants to share His life with us and make us completely happy!

Fr. Francisco Fernandez, Your servant and your Pastor

Pope Benedict's Angelus on the Second Sunday in Ordinary Time (January 30, 2011)

On this Fourth Sunday of Ordinary Time, the Gospel presents the first great discourse that the Lord addresses to the people on the gentle hills encircling the Sea of Galilee. "Seeing the crowds," St Matthew writes, "he went up on the mountain, and when he sat down his disciples came to him. And he opened his mouth and taught them" (Mt 5:1-2).

Jesus, the new Moses, "takes his seat on the cathedra of the mountain" (Jesus of Nazareth, Doubleday, New York 2007, p. 65) and proclaims "blessed" the poor in spirit, those who mourn, the merciful, those who hunger for righteousness, the pure in heart, the persecuted (cf. Mt 5:3-10). It is not a new ideology, but a teaching that comes from on high and touches the human condition, the condition that the Lord, in becoming flesh, wished to assume in order to save it.

Therefore "the Sermon on the Mount is addressed to the entire world, the entire present and future, and yet it demands discipleship and can be understood and lived out only by following Jesus and accompanying him on his journey" (Jesus of Nazareth, p. 69).

The Beatitudes are a new programme of life, to free oneself from the false values of the world and to open oneself to the true goods, present and future. Indeed, when God comforts, he satisfies the hunger for righteousness, he wipes away the tears of those who mourn, which means that, as well as compensating each one in a practical way, he opens the Kingdom of Heaven. "The Beatitudes are the transposition of the Cross and Resurrection into discipleship" (ibid., p. 74). They mirror the life of the Son of God who let himself even be persecuted and despised until he was condemned to death so that salvation might be given to men and women.

An ancient hermit says: "The Beatitudes are gifts of God and we must say a great 'thank you' to him for them and for the rewards that derive from them, namely the Kingdom of God in the century to come and consolation here; the fullness of every good and mercy on God's part ... once we have become images of Christ on earth" (Peter of Damascus, In Filocalia, Vol. 3, Turin 1985, p. 79).

The Gospel of the Beatitudes is commented on with the actual history of the Church, the history of Christian holiness, because, as St Paul writes, "God chose what is weak in the world to shame the strong, God chose what is low and despised in the world, even things that are not, to bring to nothing things that are" (1 Cor 1:27-28).

For this reason the Church has no fear of poverty, contempt or persecution in a society which is often attracted by material well-being and worldly power. St Augustine reminds us that "it serves nothing to suffer these evils, but rather to bear them in the Name of Jesus, not only with a serene soul but also with joy" (cf. De sermone Domini in monte, i, 5,13: ccl 35, 13).

Dear brothers and sisters, let us invoke the Virgin Mary, the Blessed par excellence, asking her for the strength to seek the Lord (cf. Zeph 2:3) and to follow him always, with joy, on the path of the Beatitudes.
